EHCP REPORT #353

Section A: Views, interests, and aspirations

[Student Name] is a 14-year-old male currently attending an Alternative Provision (AP) setting. He enjoys digital design and competitive gaming, which he uses as a primary outlet for his creativity. He aspires to gain qualifications in graphic design and hopes to transition to a local college at age 16. He expresses a desire to feel more confident in group settings and wishes to improve his ability to manage frustration during academic tasks.

Section B: Special educational needs

[Student Name] has identified needs in the area of Social, Emotional, and Mental Health (SEMH). He experiences significant difficulties with emotional regulation, which often manifest as withdrawal or verbal outbursts when faced with challenging academic work. He requires support to develop executive functioning skills, specifically regarding task initiation and sustained focus.

Section C: Health needs

There are no identified medical diagnoses. However, [Student Name] requires support to manage anxiety-related physical symptoms, such as restlessness and elevated heart rate, which occur during periods of high academic pressure.

Section D: Social care needs

[Student Name] requires support to develop age-appropriate social communication skills. He currently struggles to navigate peer interactions, which impacts his ability to engage in collaborative learning.

Section E: Outcomes sought

1. By the end of Year 10, [Student Name] will independently use a self-regulation strategy (e.g., a 'time-out' card) to manage frustration before it escalates.
2. By the end of Year 11, [Student Name] will complete a portfolio of work in his chosen vocational subject, demonstrating the ability to initiate and sustain tasks over a 45-minute period.
3. [Student Name] will demonstrate improved social interaction by participating in a small-group project with at least one peer, as measured by teacher observation.

Section F: Special educational provision

- Access to a key worker for daily check-ins to set goals and review emotional regulation.
- Use of a visual timetable and 'chunked' task instructions to support executive functioning.
- Access to a quiet, low-arousal workspace when experiencing heightened anxiety.
- Weekly social skills intervention sessions facilitated by the school's pastoral team.

Section G: Health provision

- Access to the school's pastoral support team for monitoring of anxiety symptoms.
- Referral to school nursing services for guidance on stress-management techniques if required.

Section H1: Social care provision (CSDPA 1970)

- Access to local youth mentoring services to support community integration and social confidence outside of the school environment.

Section H2: Additional social care provision

- Support from a family support worker to facilitate consistent communication between home and the AP setting.

Section I: Placement

[Student Name] will attend [Name of Alternative Provision School], a state-funded AP setting that provides a small-group environment with high staff-to-student ratios suitable for his SEMH needs.

Section J: Personal budget / direct payments

A personal budget is not requested at this time, as the provision is met through the school's core funding and high-needs block allocation.

Section K: Assessment evidence and advice

- Educational Psychologist Report (dated [Date])
- AP School Progress Review (dated [Date])
- Pastoral Support Plan (dated [Date])
- Parent/Carer and Student consultation notes (dated [Date])
