SEN: SEN support but no specialist assessment of type of need

EHCP REPORT #498

Section A: Views, interests, and aspirations

[Student Name] is an 11-year-old boy who enjoys building with construction sets and playing football. He expresses a desire to "keep up with his friends" in class and wants to learn how to manage his schoolwork without feeling overwhelmed. His parents aspire for him to develop independence and gain the functional literacy and numeracy skills required for future vocational training.

Section B: Special educational needs

[Student Name] has Moderate Learning Difficulties (MLD). He experiences significant delays in core curriculum areas compared to his peers. He requires support with processing multi-step instructions, retaining information in his working memory, and applying foundational literacy and numeracy skills to age-appropriate tasks.

Section C: Health needs

None identified at this time.

Section D: Social care needs

None identified at this time.

Section E: Outcomes sought

1. To improve literacy skills to enable [Student Name] to access the secondary curriculum with reduced adult support.
2. To develop organizational strategies to manage school equipment and homework tasks independently.
3. To increase confidence in social interactions within the classroom setting.

Section F: Special educational provision

1. Access to a differentiated curriculum with scaffolded tasks to accommodate MLD.
2. Small group interventions for literacy and numeracy (3x weekly) to consolidate foundational skills.
3. Use of visual prompts and "chunking" of instructions to support working memory.
4. Access to a key worker for 1:1 check-ins to support organizational skills and emotional regulation.
5. Regular monitoring of progress against individual learning targets.

Section G: Health provision

None required.

Section H1: Social care provision (CSDPA 1970)

None required.

Section H2: Additional social care provision

None required.

Section I: Placement

[Name of State-Funded Secondary School], a mainstream secondary school.

Section J: Personal budget / direct payments

Not applicable.

Section K: Assessment evidence and advice
