EHCP REPORT #78

Section A: Views, interests, and aspirations

[Student Name] is a 15-year-old student who enjoys creative writing and digital art. She expresses a strong desire to attend a local college to study graphic design. She finds school environments overwhelming due to sensory processing difficulties and struggles to communicate her needs when feeling anxious. Her aspiration is to gain independence and develop the social confidence required to transition into further education.

Section B: Special educational needs

1. Other difficulty or disability: [Student Name] experiences significant sensory processing differences that impact her ability to regulate her emotions and focus in a busy classroom environment.
2. SLCN: She has persistent difficulties with expressive and receptive language, specifically in processing complex verbal instructions and articulating her thoughts during high-pressure social interactions.

Section C: Health needs

[Student Name] requires a low-arousal environment to manage sensory overload. She does not have a specific medical diagnosis but requires a structured plan to manage anxiety-related physical symptoms (e.g., rapid heart rate, shallow breathing) that occur during academic assessments.

Section D: Social care needs

[Student Name] requires support to develop age-appropriate social interaction skills. She needs assistance in navigating peer relationships to prevent social isolation and to build the self-advocacy skills necessary for community participation.

Section E: Outcomes sought

1. Communication: By the end of Year 11, [Student Name] will be able to use a "needs card" or digital communication tool to request a sensory break independently in 90% of instances.
2. Academic: [Student Name] will achieve Level 2 qualifications in her chosen subjects by utilizing provided exam access arrangements.
3. Social/Emotional: [Student Name] will participate in a small-group social skills intervention once weekly to improve her ability to initiate and maintain peer conversations.

Section F: Special educational provision

1. Communication: Access to a Speech and Language Therapist (SLT) for one session per fortnight to work on social communication and self-advocacy.
2. Environment: Access to a "quiet zone" or sensory room during unstructured times.
3. Curriculum: All verbal instructions must be supplemented with written or visual prompts.
4. Staffing: Access to a key worker for 1:1 mentoring sessions (30 minutes weekly) to review emotional regulation strategies.

Section G: Health provision

Provision of a sensory diet plan, reviewed termly by the school's pastoral lead in consultation with the student, to manage sensory regulation throughout the school day.

Section H1: Social care provision (CSDPA 1970)

Provision of a social mentor to support [Student Name] in accessing community-based youth activities once per fortnight to promote social integration and independence.

Section H2: Additional social care provision

Access to a transition coordinator to support the student and family in planning for post-16 pathways, including visits to local colleges.

Section I: Placement

[Name of State-funded Secondary School]. The school is equipped to provide the necessary sensory environment and has a dedicated SEN department to oversee the implementation of the SLCN support plan.

Section J: Personal budget / direct payments

A personal budget is not requested at this time; the provision is met through the school's delegated SEN funding and local authority commissioned services.

Section K: Assessment evidence and advice

- Educational Psychologist Report (dated [Date])
- Speech and Language Therapy Assessment (dated [Date])
- School Progress Reports (Year 9–10)
- Student and Parent/Carer Consultation Notes (dated [Date])
